

Blue Water

ANTIQUE & CLASSIC BOAT SHOW

September 7th & 8th, 2012
Downtown Port Huron, Michigan

The dates for the Blue Water Antique and Classic Boat Show are Friday and Saturday, September 7th & 8th, 2012. Billed as the “Last Blast of the Season,” it will again be at the River Street Marina in Historic Downtown Port Huron, Michigan. The show will be held Saturday, from 10 am to 4 pm with boat lunching at the 12th Street boat launch from 8 am to 10 am. Cruisers can spend Friday and Saturday night at the Marina if they desire

The weekend starts off on Friday when we will rendezvous around 4 pm at the mouth of the Black River for a cruise down the beautiful St. Clair River to the City of St. Clair for dinner. This cruise was very popular the last time we did it. You can meet us in St Clair for dinner on your cruise north to the Port Huron Show. We had many people who just drove to St. Clair to enjoy the company of fellow boat lovers.

This year’s event will include wooden Runabouts, Utilities, Cruisers, Skiffs and wooden Outboards boats. There will also be an outboard motor display by the local Antique Outboard Motor Club International and more. You’ll be able to visit one of the many downtown restaurants or pubs for lunch. There will also be food and other vendors at the show.

At 4:00pm an awards reception for registrants will be held on Saturday with food and drinks provided. After the reception all are welcome to get in there boat and join us in a “Just for the fun of it” cruise in your boats. Depending on the weather we will cruise up Black River, down the St Clair River or up into Lake Huron. This will be a great time to show off your boat and see other boats running on the water.

Saturday night you can dine in Historic Downtown Port Huron at one of our restaurants with discount coupons.
